

Diagnosed With Cancer?

Are you under the age of 40?
Your fertility could be at risk.

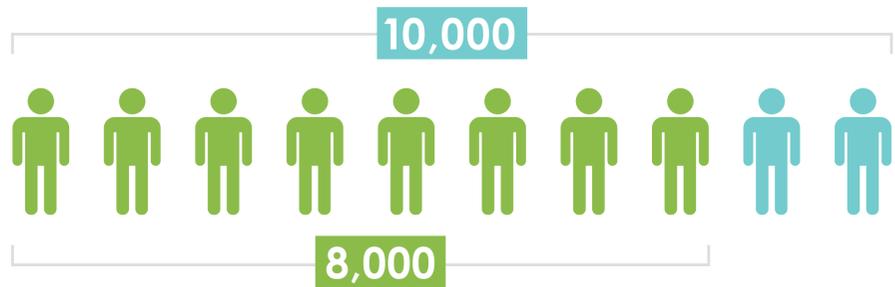

You've just been given a lot of information and your mind is likely reeling.

You may not know if you want a family, and knowing that you have the option later on, can put your mind at ease so you can focus on what's right in front of you.

SOME USEFUL STATISTICS

Each year, an estimated 10,000 young Canadians face a cancer diagnosis. Approximately 8,000 of them will win this battle.

 The cost of donor sperm will vary from bank to bank but usually costs from $500 to $1,000

 The price of Sperm freezing ranges between $350 to $500 for the initial collection

 The cost of storing the sperm is usually around $200 per year

 The cost of fertility drugs is approximately $3,500

 The price of egg freezing ranges from $3,500 to $5,850 for the retrieval of the eggs

 Egg storage costs $1,000 for five years

 In vitro fertilization when it comes time to implant the eggs costs approximately $3,000 to $4,000 per cycle

It is illegal to pay someone for their sperm in Canada

It is illegal to pay someone to be a surrogate in Canada

Fertile Future subsidizes up to $350 for qualifying males and up to $1,000 for qualifying females

A Power of Hope Clinic is a fertility centre that has agreed to reduce their fees for qualifying patients with cancer

There are currently 21 Power of Hope clinics across Canada that reduce their fees by 33.3% for qualifying patients

A donation of $1,000 helps pay one woman for egg retrieval or 2-3 men for sperm-freezing

A donation of $5,000 helps pay 5 women for egg retrieval or 14 men for sperm-freezing

A donation of $10,000 helps pay for 10 women for egg retrieval or 28 men for sperm-freezing

Your Oncologist can refer you to a Fertility Specialist.
Make sure you find out about your options!

For more information go to fertilfuture.ca  Twitter @fertilefutureca  Like us on Facebook